From Mega Camp to Five Star: One Event Down and One Ahead

Keller Williams Mega Camp wrapped up last week in San Antonio, Texas, and it was a strong showing for Cyberbacker. CEO Sajag, President Shiela, Growthbackers Renan and Jed, and VP of Cybercare Teri spent four days at the event, meeting real estate agents and leaders from across the network.

MEGA CAMP 26

One of the best parts of the event happened right at our booth. Kyla C. of KW (Blake & Associates), one of our existing clients, agreed to share their experience working with Kristine Gail B. and Emerose L., the cyberbackers who support the business every day.

Moments like these are a reminder of what all of this is really about. Behind every client relationship is a cyberbacker showing up and doing the work.

Up next, Cyberbacker heads to the Five Star Conference and Expo in Dallas, Texas, from September 1 to 3 at The Omni Hotel. Our CEO Sajag and Growthbacker Renan will be representing us, connecting with mortgage servicers, lenders, investors, and other professionals from the housing industry.

One event closes, another begins, and the work continues.

Every Referral Pays Off!

The Client Referral Challenge pays you in more ways than one. Every successful referral earns you a 2% commission. One referral already puts something in your pocket. Two doubles it. And the more you submit, the more you earn while also moving closer to the prizes on top of that.

Last week, we officially launched the Cyberbacker Profile Builder, a new way for talents to introduce themselves to Cyberbacker and to potential clients.

Instead of a plain application form, talents now build a complete professional profile covering their work experience, skills, tools, portfolio, certifications, work setup, and compliance documents. Once submitted, the profile becomes part of our talent community, where it can be matched with clients looking for specific skills and experience.

That means the more complete the profile, the more visible they become to clients searching for exactly what they bring. On our end, it brings in stronger talent and leads to better matches with the clients they will eventually support.

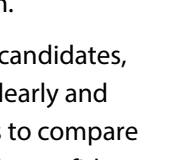

If you know someone who is planning to start their journey with us, this is what they can expect from the very first step.

A stronger profile means a stronger match.

Recognitions That Made Us Proud

Career Team Update

This week, two cyberbackers went above and beyond in creating meaningful experiences for applicants and clients alike. Let's celebrate them!

Turning Rejection into Growth: Red B.

Red B. did an outstanding job providing thoughtful and impactful feedback to an applicant who didn't pass the interview. Instead of making the conversation solely about the rejection, Red took the opportunity to recognize the applicant's strengths, explain the decision clearly, and offer constructive insights on areas for growth.

The result? The applicant walked away with a clearer understanding of herself and, for the first time, received feedback that helped her see the experience as a stepping stone rather than a setback. Despite having been ghosted after a previous interview elsewhere, Red rebuilt her trust through empathy, transparency, and genuine support.

This is the candidate experience we strive for: one where every applicant feels respected, valued, and empowered to grow. Amazing work, Red!

Elevating the Hiring Experience: Princess Y.

Princess has been a driving force behind the strength of Cyberbacker's hiring process. Through her dedication, organization, and genuine commitment to finding the right talent, she's made the client experience seamless from start to finish.

She carefully reviewed and shortlisted candidates, ensuring every profile was presented clearly and meaningfully, making it easy for clients to compare applicants, watch intro videos, and make confident hiring decisions.

Her efforts earned major praise, with clients sharing that they wish hiring in the US could be as organized and seamless as it is at Cyberbacker. Princess, your attention to detail and ownership continue to turn a simple process into an exceptional experience. Thank you!
